Mr. Nunney became president of Roland Corporation U.S. in late 2012, and under his leadership, the company has returned to stable profitability and growth. Mr. Jun-ichi Miki, CEO of Roland Corporation, credits this to the outstanding efforts of the entire team at Roland U.S., Mr. Nunney's strong leadership, numerous strategic and structural changes supported with steady investments in a stronger sales channel, and new products.

"It's been an extreme honor to lead the team through a highly successful regrowth," said Mr. Nunney. "At the same time, the opportunity for Roland's video and audio technologies within the professional A/V space is incredible. With significant investments in our new M-5000 configurable live mixing console and numerous video technologies, the opportunity to bring a global focus to our overall sales and market development for the pro A/V space is very exciting."

He was also a member of the music faculty at the University of Southern California's Thornton School of Music, has authored numerous music publications, and composed music for the motion picture Drumline. With his vast experience across the musical instrument industry in the U.S., Mr. Wanamaker will open a new chapter for the development of the Roland group.

"We are very excited about the appointments of both Mr. Wanamaker and Mr. Nunney," said Jun-ichi Miki. "Building on his vast experience across different aspects of the musical instrument industry and the momentum of successes at Roland U.S., Mr.
