Roland SPD-SX PRO Receive GOOD DESIGN AWARD 2023 Accolades

Hamamatsu, Japan, October 5, 2023 — Roland, a leading manufacturer of electronic musical instruments and professional video products, announced today that the SPD-SX PRO, sampling pad has won a GOOD DESIGN AWARD 2023, an award managed by the Japan Institute of Design Promotion.

The SPD-SX PRO was designed to meet the advanced demands of professional drummers on stage. Featuring nine durable pads with Roland’s latest sensing technology for unparalleled responsiveness and accuracy, customizable trigger LEDs for visibility, increased audio outputs and trigger inputs for seamless integration, massive onboard memory, The SPD-SX PRO helps drummers reproduce intricately crafted music. The SPD-SX PRO sets a new standard for stage drummers and all types of creative performers.
"The compact body is packed with performance that will convince even professional drummers. The intuitive user interface and customizable visibility reflect the feedback from the field. The customizability of the system, which utilizes not only auditory but also visual perception, was highly evaluated," said the jury members.
